Daily Number $4.6B Americans are spending $4.6 billion a year on hunting and fishing vacations, down from $5.2 billion in 2010, according to the federal government. That's nearly 10 percent of the $44 billion fishing industry and approximately 10 percent of U.S. travelers. Bigger than most vacations, hunting and fishing vacations account for 14 percent of all non-recreational travel spending. The Consumer Expenditure Survey identifies spending on a range of recreational activities, including dining, excursions and shopping at sporting goods, clothing, and equipment retailers. The N-terminal zinc-finger domain of MTF1 is required for its transcriptional activation. Mammalian transcription factor MTF1 is a protein with zinc fingers and acidic regions and several independent, functional domains. An NH(2)-terminal zinc-finger domain is required for its function as a transcriptional repressor, whereas the repressor domain is responsible for its function as an activator. Here we show that the acidic region of MTF1 is not involved in the activator function, but is needed for its transcriptional coactivator activity. We also found that MTF1 is phosphorylated by protein kinase A (PKA) on serine residue(s) and that the phosphorylated MTF1 has higher coactivator activity. Expression of MTF1 fused with an acidic region at the NH(2)-terminus has no transcriptional coactivator activity. These results suggest that MTF1 can function both as an activator and as a coactivator by phosphorylation and that there is a reciprocal regulation between MTF1 and its target genes.
