Interview with New Sword/System of Kevin Wu, the designer of 'ELDRING:Lion' -. Hi Kevin, thank you for taking the time to talk with us today! First of all, could you introduce yourself to our readers? Hi, I'm Kevin Wu, the designer and producer of Eldred: Lion. When did you first begin working on this game? Eldred was my very first game, so that's a real exciting part of my history. In about 2002, I got the vision of creating a fantasy RPG and set off towards my D&D career, and in the meantime I had to learn a lot and implement everything myself. Your fans may know that you have worked on other games as well, such as Dragon's Crown. Can you tell us what inspired you to create Eldred: Lion? I created Eldred because I simply couldn't get my hands on a good fantasy RPG with the features I had envisioned for the genre. It wasn't the turn-based strategy Battle System I wanted, it was the combat styles of Zelda, the bigger environments I wanted, and the high quality of voice acting. So I decided to start with a fantasy world to keep that fantasy out of the way, let's move the RPG elements in the game design, and start from there. So, in other words, Eldred: Lion was born as a fantasy RPG with a turn-based combat and a bigger game world. Why did you choose Western style combat in the game? I'm quite fond of the "swords are awesome" type of combat. I enjoy the fact that they can be combined with various styles, like Assassination, Raid, and even ranged attacks like Arrows and Magic. You can't do that easily in action/arcade style because it's hard to combine ranged attacks with heavy attacks. Also, the play style of this combat fits quite well with the fantasy environment of Eldred. As a fantasy-action/role-playing-game, I wanted Eldred to have its own style. We thought that the deep story and epic-drama is something that fantasy games usually lack, so I wanted to make it the heart and soul of the game. "The only thing I regret is that it wasn't released in this current console bff6bb2d33

One of the main features of ELDEN RING game is “Create your own Character”. As you create your own character, you can freely combine weapons, armor, and magic that you equip. You can develop your character according to your play style, such as increasing your muscle strength to become a strong warrior, or mastering magic. BATTLE SYSTEM Game system driven by the “Judgment” concept. “Judgment” in ELDEN RING game is a system that allows you to judge the strength of the opponent in real-time, enabling you to work toward damage calculations in order to make a decisive blow. Judgment Judgment is a system that calculates damage based on the difference in one’s strength and the strength of the opponent. The stronger the difference in strength between you and your opponent, the higher the damage caused. Judgment’s calculation speed will differ according to the number of physical damage sources and the amount of defense strength. You can be strong enough to damage the opponent, but the “Strength Equivalence” of the enemy or the “Counter Ability” of the opponent might change that result. In the “Battle of Wisdom” at the end of a battle, the strength of the opponent can be compared to your “Strength Equivalence” which is the strength of your character after subtracting your “Defense Power”. You can set how much your “Strength Equivalence” will change when you press [R] + [B]. The faster your “Strength Equivalence” becomes strong, the more effective the attack becomes. During the course of a battle, as your strength increases, you will be able to use up your power gauge faster and be stronger. The more damage you deal to the opponent, the greater your “Strength Equivalence” will be. If you push [R] + [B] at the right time, you can perfectly execute a decisive blow against the opponent to deal critical damage and win the battle. By using [R] + [B] at the appropriate time, you can perfectly execute a decisive blow against your opponent to deal critical damage and win the battle.
