I've written some code in javascript to do this. Now I want to improve it by adding features like name of the site, a list of all the CSS and HTML elements on the site, which are used by the site so that I can complete my work faster. I searched and found this:

jQuery plugins which can find CSS and HTML elements in a webpage But here I'm not sure what the best plugins are for this purpose. A: If you are using Firefox or Chrome I can recommend firebug. It will show you the structure of the HTML and you can even override HTML elements with CSS in the style panel. Q: MySQL export a specific set of IDs I have this query which exports a set of IDs from my SQL Database: `select distinct c.id from cms.content c join cmssets s on c.id_cms_content = s.id join cmsset2 s2 on s.id = s2.id_cms_content where s2.id_name = 'promo' and s2.id_lang_name = 'en'` How do I export only the IDs which meet this criteria, i.e, I only want the IDs that match the following criteria: `id_cms_content = 23, id_cms_content = 24, id_cms_content = 61, id_cms_content = 69`. Edit: I tried this but it produced this error: `select s2.id from cmsset2 as s1 join cmsset2 as s2 on s1.id = s2.id_cms_content where s2.id_name`
